

Ron J.C. Weil

“Man has always achieved the possible in seeking the impossible.”

I believe that bringing you to success involves helping you jump over limiting, lingering habits. It also takes harnessing your positivism and the ability to learn and grow through your own experiences. Are you prepared to work with someone who will confront you in the most positive, pragmatic and productive way? Who believes in lasting impact? Who will accompany you in navigating effortlessly from micro to macro view and from vision to action?

Experience

Dutch born and bred, Ron has enjoyed a truly international career that began in the retail business, becoming MD of a retail chain. His leadership and coaching experience stem primarily from growing one of most renowned consulting and training firms, originally founded in Switzerland, and over 20 years turning it into an international, premium brand with global scope and presence.

The combination of developing an international group of consultants and trainers, while coaching in the boardroom, has given Ron the breadth and depth required of a powerful, executive coach. Ron brings his entrepreneurial experience, knowledge of business complexities, and deep understanding of running an organisation of professionals to bear on his coaching.

A specialist in developing business strategies, Ron expanded his own leadership skills by crafting new ways of teaching them to others. He has run hundreds of courses on successful leadership, sales approaches and client relationship management and trained many of trainers to run these internationally. He continues to facilitate leadership development seminars for CEO's , and with boards working on strategy, leadership and change projects.

Professional Expertise

Ron has spent the past 25 years working one-on-one with board chairmen, MD's and executive committee level leaders. He has extensive experience in many sectors including finance, services, production, trade and retail.

Ron coaches in Dutch, English and German., with also good French
